FOREWORD

Here is the BULL—the revival of which, after ten years of suspended animation, has called for courage, perseverance, and faith beyond measure.

The task to which we have consecrated our efforts is not to be thought of lightly—each line and page represents some few sleepless nights, sincere and anxious hearts. We have felt the need for some record of student life—a need to record for ourselves and posterity, images and lines which time in its course shall mellow and render above and beyond the value of gold and silver.

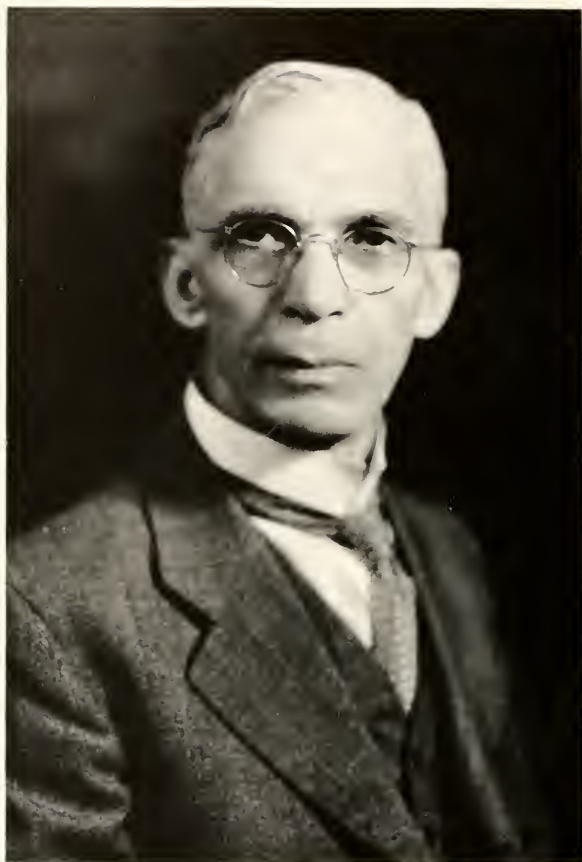

With full consciousness of the magnitude of our task, cognizant and grateful for all the admonishments and obstacles, now surmounted—in all humility, we submit the 1946 BULL.

What measure of success we have met in the diligent pursuance of our several duties, is for you to judge.

From the BULL staff, there is no apology; we have done our best.

HISTORY

Lives of great men all remind us
We can make our lives sublime,
And departing, leave behind us
Footprints on the sands of Time.

Flash! Flash! According to a recent bulletin, there will be an important meeting of the Senior Class of Johnson C. Smith University tonight at 8:00 P.M. in Biddle Memorial Hall. We repeat. The announcer's pleasing, penetrating voice proceeded to repeat the announcement, but Anne Howard did not hear the announcement the second time. Her mind went flying back over the sand of time to that day on September 14, 1942, when she first entered the portals of Dear old Smith University.

She remembered well how, overwhelmed with pride and ecstasy, she joined the gay noisy crowd in front of the Administration Building that morning. She remembered that the first person she met that day was a very charming, though demure, petite and fragile girl from Hartford, Conn., how they had toured the campus, which had seemed the most beautiful sight they had ever seen, together; how they had attended the theater party together; and how they had returned and registered together that afternoon. The buildings seemed the most impressive; the professors, the most wonderful; and of the other new students, the prettiest and most handsome they had ever seen. This was a glorious day!

It was not long, however, before they became accustomed to the wonders of their new environment. It was not long before freshmen became participants, no longer observers, in the life about them. The first milestone was the election of officers for the class which was as follows: president, Claude N. Shropshire; vice-president, William Ezell; secretary, Allenstine D. Sparks; treasurer, William Johnson. The freshman representatives in dramatics were Allenstine D. Sparks and Cornell Powell; and in athletics, James Fisher, Cal Pass, Thomas Pogue, and Roger Foster. Thaddeus Moore received the citation for the highest average at the end of the freshman year.

All of this seemed as though it happened only yesterday. So vividly do the incidents of these years appear now. The class moved steadily upward. The guidance of the officers elected to serve during the sophomore term: president, Henry Holder; vice-president, Lunell Hart; secretary, Catherine Richardson.

The class of '46 felt the powerful influence of the destructive World War II, as several members including the brilliant Thaddeus Moore and Claude Shropshire departed to the services of the U.S.A. Many others took advantage of the accelerated education program. As the class president, Henry H. Holder, was one of the many to profit by this acceleration program, therefore the class finished the year under the leadership of Lunelle Hart. Students suffered from various schools and supplemented these losses.

Also during the second year of the class of '46's pilgrimage, sororities were introduced: the Gamma Lambda Chapter of the Delta Sigma Theta on February 19, 1944, and the Gamma Delta Chapter of the Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, March 18, 1944. The class began to disintegrate as a unit because of pledging to the various Greek organizations. With the introduction of sororities the factor which acted as competition flint the class as a whole almost lost its identity.

As though the birth of sororities did not cause sufficient distraction, a general strike beset the campus, its settlement gave birth to a Student Council, the first in the history of the school. The members were as follows: Gladys Coles, Winona Lee, Allenstine D. Sparks, William Davis, Jack McHugh, Joseph Maxwell, Darius L. Swann, Henry Holder, Raymond Mitchell and James W. Smith. Allenstine D. Sparks served as president of the Student Council for the school year 1945-46.

Then came the Junior year. The class moved steadily under the leadership of Paul Cade, president, Ola Bryant, secretary, and all the others elected to serve during that time. Five juniors: Aurella Jones, Martha Thompson, Allenstine Sparks, Robert Beckham, and Cornell Powell, in perhaps the only factor indicating a junior class existence, availed themselves of the opportunity opened only to juniors—the Alumni sponsored Junior Prize Oratorical contest. Allenstine Sparks copied the gold medal award.

And now the senior year has approached. Four years that have enriched and beautified many lives with varied and illumining experiences are practically over. A class that has had its due share of ups and downs reaches maturity to claim all of its share of recognition in extra curricular activities and school life. With patience and perseverance the survivors of previous years mount the precipice for seniors only. A class as a unit is the last impression of the class of '46.

Anne's reminiscing went on and on. She reflected, however, that she had only depicted a partial picture, a glimpse of beautiful life which had been spent here at dear old Johnson C. Smith University during the past four years. On her way to the meeting, the last meeting of the senior class—Anne was haunted by these lines from Lancelotti's "Psalm of Life," "We can make our lives sublime, and, departing, leave behind us footprints on the sands of time."

WILL AND TESTAMENT

STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA,
COUNTY OF MECKLENBURG,
CITY OF CHARLOTTE.

We, the Senior Class of 1946, being fully aware of the fact that our days of pleasure and pain at this cherished Institution will soon terminate, and we must soon take our place in this vast world of turmoil and strife, and in order to prevent any legal misunderstanding, after our departure over our enormous accomplishments do hereby make this our final will and testament.

The Class of 1946 of Johnson C. Smith University, being of sound mind, memory, and understanding, and realizing the uncertainty of life make, publish, and declare this as and for our final will and testament, and hereby revoking and nullifying any and all former wills and testaments, or writings in the nature thereof, by us at any time heretofore made. Such accomplishments as it has pleased Providence to bestow upon us, we dispose of as follows:

First: We direct that our funeral shall be modest in character and in keeping with our positions in life, and that all just debts and funeral expenses be fully paid by the money promised us by our parents, relatives, and friends.

Second: All and everything responsible for our accomplishments of whatsoever nature, kind, and description, real, personal, and mixed, and wheresoever achieved, we give, devise, and bequeath to our beloved Juniors.

Third: To our dear Alma Mater that has so faithfully served in the interest of humanity since its founding, we, on our departure pledge: "Our heads to clearer thinking", "our hearts to greater loyalty", "our hands to greater service", and "our health to better living."

Fourth: We do will and bequeath to the Board of Trustees our many thanks for permitting social dancing on the campus as of 1946.

Fifth: To our beloved President, Dr. Henry Lawrence McCrorey, we will the Annual of 1946 as a token for the many years of service he has rendered the Institution.

Sixth: To Dr. R. L. Douglas we will and bequeath our love and appreciation for the untiring service he has rendered the Institution in the field of Mathematics.

Seventh: To the largest Freshman Class in the history of the Institution we will our ability to think sanely, which they never possessed.

Eighth: To all who shall dare where we have fought, we bequeath our faith.

In witness whereof, we, the Class of 1946, have set our hand and seal unto this, our last will and testament this Twentieth day of May, Anno Domini, One Thousand Nine Hundred Forty-six.

RAIN OR SHINE, THE JOB IS MINE

.... I'm never late nor early,
I'm always on the dot.

At making ice I'm pretty nice,
I'll chill the fish you've caught,
And when it comes to cooking,
I'm the hottest of the hot.
With lots of light I'll help the sight
Of every little tot;
Your work each day will seem like play
With all the tools I've brought.

At midnight deep, when you're asleep
I am sentry on your lot;
Would-be burglars stay away,
Light is better than a shot!
Your cheapest aide, your neatest maid,
I'm thrifty as a Scot:
I'm your own electric servant,

Ever,

REDDY KILOWATT
